1. Contrast Echocardiography Course

An africaSTEMI course intended for cardiologists, cardiac sonographers and physicians who have a passion for echo and imaging.

Case based clinical echocardiography teaching with an emphasis on myocardial wall motion and cardiac function assessment in coronary artery disease, chest pain syndromes and complications of myocardial infarction. Case examples you will have never seen before with a world leading faculty! This year’s course focuses on the use of contrast in ecboardiography and addresses any misconceptions about contrast technologies. This will be the first ever course on contrast echo in Africa.

3. Acute Pulmonary Embolism
4. Hypertensive Crisis
5. Management of Tachycardias
6. Management of Bradycardias
7. Cardiac Tamponade

Objectives: At the end of the course, the clinician will be able to

1. Recognise important acute cardiac conditions in primary care/outpatient/emergency department setting (presentation, symptoms, vital signs)
2. Build a differential diagnosis in primary care/outpatient/emergency setting
3. Build competence in ECG and Point of care ultrasound (POCUS) as central diagnostic tools for all cadres of clinician
4. Utilize and interpret blood tests and imaging in the evaluation of all acute cardiac conditions
